FINANCIALWolters Kluwer Completes €475 Million Share Buy-back Program

Amsterdam (November 8, 2007) - Wolters Kluwer, a leading global information services and publishing company, today completed its share buy-back program announced on March 26, 2007. Wolters Kluwer returned €475 million of the net proceeds from the sale of the Education division to shareholders through this share buy-back program. As announced on November 7, 2007, Wolters Kluwer will execute a further share buy-back program to return approximately €175 million to shareholders. This share buy-back program, in addition to the previous program, reinforces management's commitment to return further value to shareholders.

During the period from June 18, 2007 until and including November 8, 2007, Wolters Kluwer, through the mandated bank ING Wholesale Banking, repurchased 21,876,410 of its ordinary shares, representing approximately 7% of outstanding shares. Shares were repurchased at an average price of €21.71 for a total amount of €475 million, and this finalizes the share buy-back program according to plan. Wolters Kluwer now holds 23.4 million as treasury shares.

It is Wolters Kluwer's intention to cancel the greater part of the shares acquired through this share buy-back program, and to potentially use a smaller part of the shares acquired through the share buy-back program to cover its obligations to grant performance shares under the company's long term incentive plan.

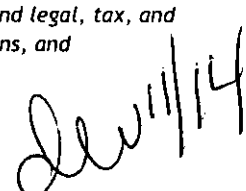

The share buy-back of €175 million commences with the completion of the €475 million program and ends on April 21, 2008 unless prior to such date the aggregate value of shares acquired would exceed the €175 million, or ten percent of the outstanding ordinary shares have been repurchased, including any ordinary shares already held by the company; or in the event of a corporate transaction regarding Wolters Kluwer.
